

The Northwest Boychoir's musical sophistication and rich tonal quality have established its reputation as one of the nation's premier boychoirs. Its 40 top members, ages 10 to 14, come from all corners of the Greater Seattle area and represent 30 diverse public and private schools. Northwest Boychoir members are skilled musicians with a passion for the musical arts, and a unique ability to perform great choral literature and contemporary works at the highest professional levels. In its 40 years, the Northwest Boychoir has trained thousands of young singers, and more significantly, shaped the lives of its members by instilling important lessons in personal commitment, and the value of teamwork and diligence. Led by Joseph Crnko, now in his 30th year as music director, Northwest Boychoir members are gifted young musicians who read music fluently and perform professionally with confidence.

Officially designated the "Singing Ambassadors" of Washington State, the Northwest Boychoir has performed around the world and throughout the United States. International tours have taken the Boychoir to France, Italy, Japan, Hong Kong, Australia, New Zealand, Canada and Mexico. More than 25% of Northwest Choirs families receive financial assistance, and the choristers fundraise themselves throughout the year to help the Boychoir's commitment that all eligible choristers take part in the tour, regardless of ability to pay.

The Seattle Symphony leads a long list of professional arts groups that rely on the talents of the Boychoir. The Choir closed its 2014 season with a performance of A Festival of Lessons & Carols at Benaroya Hall, presented by the Seattle Symphony. The Northwest Boychoir has recently been seen on stage with the Seattle Symphony Orchestra in performances of Bach's St. Matthew Passion, Orff's Carmina burana, and most recently in Mahler's Symphony No. 3. This past June, the Seattle Symphony and the Northwest Boychoir presented the U.S. premier of Colin Matthews's The Pied Piper of Hamelin.

When soundtrack composers need the unique boychoir sound, they often turn to the Northwest Boychoir whose professional talents are featured on films such as the acclaimed Millions, First Daughter and Valkyrie. More recently, the Choir recorded the soundtrack for the movie, Let Me In, with music written by Oscar-winning film composer Michael Giacchino. The Northwest Boychoir is featured prominently on the soundtrack for Sea World Florida's Blue Horizons, and has also recorded soundtracks for such video games as Medal of Honor and Peggle. Among its accomplishments is the Choir's selection by renowned Sound Designer Nick Phoenix recorded for his Quantum Leap Symphonic Choirs sample library, as well as the Cinesample choral library Vaxos. The voices of the Northwest Boychoir are now used by film composers and sound designers worldwide.

In 2010, the Northwest Boychoir premiered Lori Laitman's VEDEM, with Music of Remembrance. The CD of this work, released on the Naxos label, has won critical acclaim. The previous year, the Boychoir joined with the Seattle Symphony to record Samuel Jones' wonderful children's fable The Shoe Bird, which was nominated for a Grammy in 2009. The Northwest Boychoir has produced five holiday recordings, the most recent A Festival of Lessons & Carols. In addition to its own recordings, the Boychoir is featured in the 2006 recording of Hans Krása's children's opera, Brundibár (Naxos).

Christina Siemens, piano

Christina Siemens is an active professional musician in demand as both pianist and vocalist. She began her work with the prestigious Pacific Northwest Ballet in 2003 and was promoted to full time Company Pianist in 2008. Ms. Siemens' solo keyboard repertoire with PNB includes Variations Serieuses (Mendelssohn), Concerto DSCH (Shostakovich), The Four Temperaments (Hindemith), Remembrances (Wagner), Petite Mort (Mozart), Polyphonia (Ligeti) and Rubies (Stravinsky). Her playing of The Piano Dance, choreographed by Paul Gibson, was lauded as "exemplary". She traveled to New York with select PNB principal dancers in May of 2012 to perform ballet excerpts on the Guggenheim Museum's Works and Process series and returned to the Guggenheim in September with PNB Artistic Director, Peter Boal, to perform on the program Balanchine Then and Now. In 2013 she returned to the Guggenheim to present a similar program entitled Men in Ballet. Performances rounding out the spring of 2014 season included Seattle Symphony's production of Carmina Burana, PNB's A Midsummer Night's Dream, engagements with The Tudor Choir and a tour of London with The Byrd Ensemble. Fall 2014 began with a successful performance of Stravinsky's Capriccio for Piano and Orchestra accompanying the PNB production of Jewels in Las Vegas. Recent engagements include accompanying A Festival of Lessons and Carols with the Northwest Boychoir, Fearless but Friendly Masters on the Auburn Symphony Orchestra's chamber series, a recital of Sibelius Art Songs as part of the Seattle Symphony's Sibelius festival, performances of Yakona at the Northwest Film Forum. In addition, Ms. Siemens performed the Shostakovich Piano Concerto No. 2, and was the soprano soloist in Carmina Burana - both with the Pacific Northwest Ballet. Ms. Siemens performs solo roles and works with many of the Northwest's leading musical organizations, including the Seattle Symphony and Seattle Symphony Chorale, Auburn Symphony, Opus 7, Seattle Pro Musica, Northwest Boychoir, Northwest Girlchoir, 5th Avenue Theatre, Northwest Chamber Chorus, Cascadian Chorale, St. James Cathedral, St. Mark's Cathedral, Seattle Opera Previews, Tacoma Opera and Skagit Opera. She studied piano at the University of Washington with Patricia Michaelian and also at the Bowdoin College of the Arts in Maine. Ms. Siemens continues to be very involved in the Seattle studio recording industry, performing on many film soundtrack recordings.

Joseph Crnko, conductor

Mr. Crnko is in his 30th year as Music Director of the Northwest Boychoir. During his tenure, the Northwest Choirs has grown from a small 50-member group with several concerts a year, to a vital arts organization of 200 members in seven progressively graded ensembles, an annual schedule of more than 40 concerts, a biennial international tour program, and a schedule of professional studio recording engagements. In this time, the Northwest Boychoir has established itself as a prominent member of the Pacific Northwest performing arts community sharing the stage regularly with the Seattle Symphony, in addition to other area professional arts organizations.

In 2007, Mr. Crnko joined the Seattle Symphony as Associate Conductor for Choral Activities. In a recent review, the Seattle Times stated, "Trained by associate conductor for choral activities Joseph Crnko, the Chorale's sound quality has improved beyond all measure the past few years. Crnko has been conductor of The Northwest Boychoir for a quarter-century, and perhaps it's his great care not to overstrain young voices — while at the same time eliciting beautiful singing from them — that has brought such success to the Symphony Chorale."

Mr. Crnko regularly conducts orchestral and choral recording sessions for movie and video game soundtracks. Among his many projects are the films The Last Stand, Let Me In, Boondock Saints, The Celestine Prophecy, and such video games as Halo, World of Warcraft, Diablo and Starcraft II. Mr. Crnko holds an undergraduate degree in Percussion Performance from CSU Sacramento, and a master's degree in Instrumental Conducting from the University of Washington, where he studied with conductor Michel Singher. Mr. Crnko lives in Seattle with his wife, Wendee, and their two children, Katharine and Nick now reside in Los Angeles.
